1. 24/0226.01 Work Plan Items Discussion

a. Sand Dune Park Master Plan

i. Presentation by Landscape Architect David Volz Design Team

Director Leyman gave an overview, emphasizing that the city team wants to hear from the commission as all comments and recommendations will be forwarded to the City Council on July 16. Director Leyman introduced Bryant Avalos from David Volz Design (DVD) who gave a presentation that described public input received at two community meetings how concepts have been refined in response to input. The current plan represents the plan that was favored by the community at the second meeting. Public input included: need for upgrades including elements for older kids, more lighting throughout the park, ADA compliant and modernized office/restroom, protection of existing mulberry trees, outdoor education space and new fencing and swings.

Mr. Avalos reviewed the final concept plan including (but not limited to) the playgrounds, tree preservation, proposed storage and restroom buildings, seating, bike racks and south lawn improvements including a six-foot wide concrete path.

A question/answer and discussion session followed; some issues raised and responded to included:

- Tot Lot structures: Some (e.g. snail) are painted and neighbors preferred natural wood (not painted) surfaces. (Windes)
- Six foot wide concrete bike path in south lawn area: The majority of neighbors do not want (feels not needed) and prefer to keep passive green area to be continued to be available for various games and sports. (Windes) Commissioner Greenberg questioned whether having a concrete path would make access safer for bikes and felt it should be retained.
- “Educational Space” was clarified as a space (not a structure) for smaller children to have a learning experience and it includes a raised stage with some low seating. (Komatinsky)
- Pedestrian access will be provided between playgrounds
- Mulberry Trees: in north area will be retained and more may be considered to be planted.
- Tube steel fencing proposed around perimeter meets public works department standards for durability. (Komatinsky)
- Picnic tables/seating will be designed to the desired natural look brand but will be durable. One bench is proposed in the north area near the mulberry trees. The intent was to keep the north area open and available for use as “flex space.” (Komatinsky)
- Consistency with council/community input: Everything seems to reflect input from community and feels the design is “shined up”. The budget will be refined prior to going to City Council. The exact number of boulders will be discussed. (Zimbalist)

It was suggested that the bike path issue be separated from the plan in order to seek additional public input.

Public input was invited from both the in-person and Zoom audiences.

Lee Barr, resident, asked if having the bike path might hinder or impact the annual Hometown Fair 10K event which runs by the park.

From the Zoom audience, two persons spoke.

Suzanne Hadley lives near the park, loves the plan but feels strongly that it should not include the bike path; she feels this would be a significant change not intended by council. The south lawn area has traditionally been used for organized sports (flag football, frisbee, pick-up soccer etc.) and that would be eliminated by the path. She shares the concern also that the 10K use of the area may be impacted if the bike path is included.

Mark Osterkamp echoed the prior speaker comments and asked that the commission and city eliminate the bike path (not needed) and keep the south lawn area a passive space.

It was briefly discussed and determined that the Hometown Fair 10K issue be further explored and discussed at the City Council meeting in July.

Commissioner Komatinsky inquired as to whether there are any implications with ADA compliance that relate to the pathway. Director Leyman responded that this can be further evaluated by staff prior to going to City Council.

Commissioner Greenberg indicated that he has changed his mind on the viability of the bike path based on comments received and discussion.

It was discussed and agreed that the park plan be brought forward as a single whole project; staff will look into the issue of ADA compliance and Hometown Fair 10K interface relative to the bike path and summarize all concerns that have been received.

It was moved and seconded (Komatinsky/Windes) that the Commission recommend that the final plan be forwarded to the City Council for approval as presented this evening but with a summary of public input including concerns regarding the proposed bike path.

The motion passed 6-0 (McCarthy absent) by voice vote.

b. Dog Parks & Community Parkettes

Director Leyman updated that a community meeting was held, and an online survey is active and will close on May 31. A total of 36 responses have been received so far and 86% of these are opposed to making two separate areas including one for small dogs. At the June Parks and Recreation Commission meeting, the committee and staff will update the Commission on public input received (community meeting and survey results). It is hoped that this project will be able to be forwarded to the City Council also on July 16 (along with Sand Dune Park).

c. Explore Repurposing Pay 'n' Play Racquetball Land/Building

Commissioner Windes updated that this project is still under consideration by City Council and various new options (other than a futsal court) are being explored. The project has been included in the C.I.P (Capital Improvements Projects) and therefore she believes that this item can now be removed from the active list of Work Plan projects for the Commission. Director Leyman clarified that a futsal court is still "on the table" but City Council has requested more information.

d. Explore Community Aquatics Facility

Commissioner Komatinsky reported: The city's consulting firm, HMC, made a formal presentation to the School Board and the board has many questions and things to think about, including the possibility of the district funding a pool through a bond; she expects that the project will come back before the board. There was brief discussion about a possible new municipal pool site on city-owned land behind the Manhattan Village Shopping Center, a subject that City Manager Bruce Moe raised. Commissioner Komatinsky emphasized that the scope of the pool project regardless of which site is chosen remains a local Manhattan Beach oriented facility and not a site designed for high level swim competitions.

e. Donation Policy and Programs / LoveMB Discussion

Commissioner Komatinsky commented in that this project is “up and running,” and this project can be taken off the Parks and Recreation Commission agenda for discussion and no action is needed of the Commission at this point.

f. Enhanced Holiday Events (Flags, Memorial Day, Fallen Soldier) (to be renamed (Flags, Memorial Day and Memorial to the Fallen)

Chair Doran reported that Mr. McAulay has identified three possible locations for a memorial in the Civic Center Plaza. Next steps: an RFP calling for conceptual design of the memorial will be drafted and processed through the Cultural Arts Commission (CAC) as the memorial will be an art piece. The CAC will review submittals and determine top designs and its recommendation will be forwarded to City Council for review and a final design selection. Since the Parks and Rec Commission has worked extensively on this, its insights and information can be shared, through staff with the Cultural Arts Commission. This project can now be taken off the Parks and Recreation Commission Work Plan discussion list on meeting agendas. Director Leyman encouraged the Commission to provide its input as residents to the CAC.

2. 24/0529/.01 Selection of 2024-2025 Chair and Vice Chair

It was moved and seconded (Windes/Komatinsky) that Commissioner Russ Allen serve as the next Chair. The motion passed unanimously by voice vote 6-0 (McCarthy absent).

It was moved and seconded (Zimbalist/Greenberg) that Commissioner Tracey Windes serve as the next Vice Chair. The motion passed unanimously by voice vote 6-0 (McCarthy absent).

Commissioner Windes thanked and complimented Commissioners Greenberg and Komatinsky for attending a recent school board meeting and for representing the Parks and Recreation Commission well.
