Dear Mayor, Council Members and City Staff,

Thank you for taking the time to reach out to the community for feedback regarding the largest commercial contract awarded by the City of Manhattan Beach. After watching the recorded meeting from January 15th I have both comments and questions I would like to submit prior to your decision.

1. As a resident, I feel very strongly that a high diversion rate is an important component of our service and would be willing to pay a higher rate to affect that outcome. After having taken tours of the Waste Management recycling substations and feeling very good about the recycling program in our city, I was extremely disappointed and discouraged to learn that they were not performing at their contracted rate of 62% diversion rate and were actually only diverting 46% of solid waste. I understand the change in Chinese markets for recyclables, but I find WM's inability to maintain their contractual obligations troubling and wonder if they would do the same again, particularly should there be another significant change in the market. I understand the new contract would have financial ramifications should they fall below the stated requirements, but as the lowest bidder, I worry they might be willing to accept those consequences as an actual anticipated cost of winning this contract, which I believe is unacceptable.

2. I find it interesting that all three haulers end up with very similar diversion rates (46/48/50%), despite the fact that WM does not and would not sort public litter or current residential and commercial trash bins. Both Athens and WRT commit to sorting all solid waste in order to maximize diversion, so it seems suspicious that WM ends up with a similar diversion rate. Along the same lines, I am confused about why WM is able to offer the highest level of recycling revenue sharing with its customers while they provide the lowest diversion rate. Perhaps Mr. Montgomery and Ms. Howarth can explain this as I know you have spent a great deal of time in the details of this bidding process.

3. I think the City should remove itself as a middle man in billing and return that process to the vendor, with a clear explanation to the customer as to the increase in cost being offset by the decrease in CRC.

4. I agree with Ms. Howarth that, regardless of vendor selection, residents and businesses will see a significant increase in their bill and there should be considerable effort to explain this in detail to all customers.

5. As a former downtown business owner, I am particularly concerned about the extreme price increase for businesses. I would encourage Council and Staff to make a specific outreach effort to businesses for feedback (DBPA, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, etc.).

6. I see a couple of problems with the Athens quote that I think should be clarified in order to maintain an 'apples to apples' comparison between vendors.

a) Although this was their best & final bid for these exact specs, I think the “bundled” price including street sweeping and solid waste hauling should be considered. I don’t know how much their current street sweeping contract is, but if it could truly be a no cost service (as the vendor stated is the case with the bundled service in PV), I think it would only be fair to compare that cost with the total costs of the other vendors.

b) I think the issue for removing the split bins for businesses should be considered. Not only could this be a potential space saving for businesses (particularly downtown and north end, where space constraints are extreme), I also think it could impact overall costs, as businesses may need fewer cubic yards if all solid waste is combined.

7. I am disappointed to see that facility tours are no longer a requirement for our vendors, but I hope that they are highly encouraged and offered regularly as I think it is a very important part of educating our community regarding diversion.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my feedback and for painstakingly researching this contract to make the decision that best reflects the needs and wishes of both our residential and business community.

Sincerely,

Jill Lamkin

I understand that the Waste Management contract is up for renewal and I trust you are considering community input as part of the decision making process. We have owned our home in Manhattan Beach since 1985. In the time that Waste Management has served our community, I have noted their reliability, safe operating procedures, and concern for the cleanliness of our neighborhood. There is never trash left behind (even when the bins are overflowing), they do not miss pick-up dates, the trucks are always clean and the drivers are polite and helpful.

Recently I took a free home composting class from one of their community outreach folks and the result was a number of us have started composting our fruits and vegetables. I know WM also does education in the schools and helps businesses become more energy efficient. Since so many decisions today are made solely on the price of a contract, I feel it is important to consider the broader benefits of working with WM. I urge you to renew the Waste Management contract and consider the support and safety that WM provides our community.

Hi. I live on 35th and Manhattan. I am writing you to tell you that our Waste Management service in the neighborhood is pretty good. Our driver is Francisco. He takes care to not make a mess as he is picking up the trash cans and often takes the time to get out and make sure that odd size one-off items are handled, rather than just left behind.

I hope that this feedback is helpful. Francisco told us that his company is at present up for re-contracting with the City of MBch.

Call with any questions. But over all we are happy in the neighborhood here.

To Whom it may Concern,

My wife and my family have lived in Manhattan Beach since 1987. Since then I've seen our community grow and proliferate for over 30 years. Indeed, our property values have soared partly due to the quality of our schools and to the expert quality of our spotless and efficient trash pickup. Waste Management has proven itself over the years as being THE most organized, efficient and caring company. Their drivers are courteous and conscientious when it comes to our special needs; helping with hauling out Christmas trees and other unwieldy waste. Truly, they are saviors. And very customer oriented.

We highly recommend that you renew the city's contract with WM. They're the absolute best when it comes to efficiency, punctuality, courtesy and 'above and beyond' customer service.

Hi

I'm writing to give my opinion as the city negotiates a new term with the existing waste management company.

I have lived on 28th St for 8 years now and I truly appreciate the waste management services. They are almost always on their regular schedule, which makes it easy to know when to put out and collect trash bins.

In addition, it feels like a "full-service" treatment. I see them manually collect bins that are hard to get or out of reach. This enables residents to keep our small streets clear and able to drive but puts an extra burden on them. This is above and beyond service.

Finally, my trash man is always friendly and waves.

I truly appreciate this company!

thank you,

As residents for over 35 years my family has had first hand participation with the quality of waste/recycle services you have provided for your city.

Waste Management provides professionally consistent care to a city geographically diverse with needs always addressed. My family has had many interactions with Waste Management that were always concluded satisfactorily. Prices are always going up, seems that is a given. if Waste Management can "line item" the estimated cost increases with valid explanations than we should extend their contract. From my personal experience it would be a fiscally responsible selection as well as being a historically credited vendor.

I understand that the city contract with Waste Management is up for renewal/re-compete. I also understand that the current Waste Management bid is the lowest amongst the bidders. I am very satisfied, pleased, happy with the Waste Management services and personnel. I urge the council to renew/re-award the contract to Waste Management. There is no need to transition to a new provider given the current performance of Waste Management.
